

LONG-TERM CHINESE LANGUAGE PROGRAM OCEAN UNIVERSITY OF CHINA

INTRODUCTION TO OUC

Ocean University of China (OUC) was founded in 1924. It is a key comprehensive university directly under the Ministry of Education of China, which offers a complete range of disciplines with unique strengths in oceanography and fisheries. It is part of the country's Project 211 (Top 100 universities in China), Project 985 (Top 39 universities in China), and "Double First Class" construction universities. In September 2017, it was selected in Class A of China's national strategy of establishing the first-class universities of the world. OUC is located in the city of Qingdao, which is famously known as "Eastern Switzerland". OUC has four campuses and 22 colleges and schools. At present, there are more than 36500 students and 4220 faculty and staff members at OUC.

QINGDAO, CHINA

Located on the southeast coast of the Shandong Peninsula and bordering on the Yellow Sea, Qingdao is a coastal city with beautiful scenery, pleasant climate, and fresh air. Famous as a tourist attraction, it is also an important economic center and port city on the eastern coast of China with rich history and culture. As the largest outlets along the Yellow River and one of the distribution centers for information, finance, and goods, it has become one of the most economically dynamic cities in China with its advantages and potentials in port trade, marine scientific research, modern industry, well-developed agriculture, financial services, and tourism.

In addition to this, the city also holds many prestigious titles, such as the Sailing Capital of China, the best sailing city in Asia, a world-famous city of beer, a UNESCO City of Film, the first-batch of coastal opening-up cities in China, the national civilized city, one of the China's happiest cities, the "Oriental Switzerland" and a fashion city of China. It is the host city for the sailing competition of the 2008 Beijing Olympics.

PROGRAM INTRODUCTION

The long-term Chinese language program aims to improve students' listening, speaking, reading, and writing ability. According to applicants' levels of Chinese, there are elementary classes (Class A and Class B), intermediate classes (Class C and Class D), and advanced classes (Class E). Four or five courses will be offered in each semester, mainly including intensive reading, oral Chinese, listening, reading, writing, newspaper reading, etc. One semester lasts 18 weeks, with four Chinese lessons in the morning from Monday to Friday, and one or two Chinese cultural experience lessons such as Chinese calligraphy, Tai Chi, and Peking Opera in the afternoon.
